Inflation Took Most Of '67 Pay Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflation took the biggest percentage bite in seven years from pay increases and other income gains won by Americans during 1967, the federal government reports.

The after-tax income average for every man, woman and child in the nation last year rose by $131 to $2,735, the government said today, but when adjusted to take in inflation's effect on prices the gain boiled down to only $74. When figured at 1958 price level, the per capita income would be $2,391.

The report came in the newest compilation of economic data prepared for the Senate-House Economic Committee by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

President Johnson's key argument in his fight for congressional approval of his 10 per cent income tax surcharge proposal is that it would help stem inflation. But he has run into strong opposition on Capitol Hill and there were increasing indications the administration would settle for something less than a 10 per cent hike.

May Take Less
Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler recently referred to the tax bill "as proposed or in amended form" and it has been learned the phrase "amend for" was used deliberately to show the administration isn't taking an all-or-nothing stand.

Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee, said he talked in detail with administration officials before proposing a 6 per cent surcharge for individuals and 8 per cent for corporations.

The council's report on income also showed Americans saved more after-tax income—7.1 per cent—than at any time since the Korean War and that the federal government did more economic pump-priming during 1967 than in any year since World War II.

$12.6 Billion Deficit
Preliminary figures indicate federal spending and receipts based on a national income accounts basis and spread over calendar 1967 instead of a fiscal year ran a deficit of $12.6 billion, the largest since World War II.

This is the accounting system economists consider the best guide to the impact of federal activity and policy on the economy.

When this type of accounting runs a deficit the government is stimulating the economy. When it runs a surplus federal activity has a depressing effect on the economy.

The deficit was the first for a calendar year since 1964 when it ran $3 billion into the red. This account started into deficit during the third quarter of 1966 and the deficit ran at an annual rate of $14.7 billion by the second quarter of last year. It has declined since but only slightly.

U. S. Destroyer And Soviet Ship Collide At Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported today a "minor collision" between an American destroyer and a Russian merchant ship in the Sea of Japan Wednesday. No casualties were reported.

The department said the accident occurred in a crossing situation. It claimed the destroyer had the right of way under international maritime rules.

The department issued this statement: "Soviet merchant ship Kapitlan Vislobokov and the destroyer U.S.S. Rowan (D-782) had a minor collision in the Sea of Japan approximately 95 miles east of Pohang, South Korea, at 1:53 p.m. EST on Wednesday, Jan. 31.

"There were no personnel casualties aboard the destroyer Rowan and no casualties were reported by the merchant ship. The Rowan sustained 'minor damage,' a three-foot hole above the water line on the port bow. When queried by flashing lights, the Vislobokov signaled 'no assistance required' and 'damage to my stern two meters in length.' "The collision took place at 36 degrees 06 minutes north and 130 degrees, 28 minutes east. The accident occurred in a crossing situation, with the Rowan having the right of way under international regulations, being on an easterly course while the Vislobokov was on a southerly heading.

The budget President Johnson submitted to Congress last Monday projects a declining deficit in this type accounting to $2.5 billion over-all for the fiscal year which begins July 1. It presumes passage of a 10 per cent tax surcharge.

"The Rowan is a Gearing class destroyer with a displacement of 3500 tons and a length of 350 feet. It is commanded by Commander Loren I. Moore of Wheat Ridge, Colo., and carried a crew of approximately 250 men. The Soviet merchant ship Vislobokov has a displacement of about 10,000 tons and is 511 feet long.

"The incident is being investigated by the Navy."

Seek Sensory Awareness:

Calif. Students Try Nude Class

DAVIS, Calif. (AP) — University of California officials say 14 students, male and female, met last week in a nude "sensory awareness" session that lasted several hours.

Their instructor, Asst. Prof. Jerry Friedberg, told officials he was not at the class meeting, held last week at an off-campus home, and learned of it only Monday.

Friedberg, 29, said five of the 14 students undressed, and all sat in a semicircle and held hands.

The administration at UC's Davis campus made it plain today it would seek to disband the experimental course.

Chancellor Emil K. Mrak said he would take no disciplinary action against the students because only five were taking the course for academic credit, and they have since dropped the credits.

Friedberg, who holds a political science doctorate from Harvard, said the students conducted a general discussion on sensory awareness, perception and insight into a person's own needs and needs of others.

The session was likened by Friedberg to avant garde teaching methods in which the students, for example, feel the texture of a table or describe the sensation of peeling an avocado.

Friedberg and Robert Bynum, university public affairs director, said the students apparently did not have sexual relations.

The session was conducted under the university-approved "faculty 48" program in which a professor teaches an informal course in a subject he knows but does not teach regularly. Some classes are held off campus, others in university buildings.

Because more than 100 students signed up for his "sensory awareness" program, Friedberg split the class up into several smaller study sections and assigned a "student intermediary" to conduct each one. It was one of these sections which held the unorthodox session.

The Davis campus is 70 miles northeast of San Francisco.

Only Coffin Shops Are Open Today In Saigon

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON (AP) — The only shops open in Saigon today were the coffin makers. Business was brisk.

Watchful Vietnamese soldiers stood guard as the artisans worked busily to meet the demand resulting from the devastating battles that have swept across the suburbs of South Vietnam's capital this week.

All other shops and businesses in the city of three million people have been ordered closed during the crisis. The population was told to stay indoors under a 24-hour curfew.

Vietnamese police and soldiers fired into the air to break up knots of curious bystanders that gathered on some streets. Roads leading to many government and U.S. buildings in the heart of the city were blocked off.

Cars and trucks pulled up at the half dozen coffin shops. Tearful relatives loaded the brown varnished boxes, decorated with highly colored religious symbols.

Civilians Not Counted
No official count has been given of the number of civilians killed in the fighting. The three main public hospitals reported more than 100 dead in their morgues. Scores more were known to be inside the blocks of squatters' shacks and refugee houses devastated by mortar and

Highway Death Toll Declines

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic mishaps in Michigan during January claimed 117 lives, compared with 130 in January 1967, provisional State Police figures show.

Delayed death reports will add to the month's total, however, the department said.

Police said that although final traffic death figures for 1967 are not yet available, the toll so far has reached 2,116. That was 180 fewer than the record 1966 count.

helicopter fire on the northwest and southwestern outskirts of the city.

Hundreds of dead Viet Cong lay in the city's alleys. There were no coffins for them, only communal graves outside the city.

Hundreds of civilians have been wounded in the fighting. The medical director of the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital on one edge of Saigon, Dr. Jess C. Holm, said: "We have 40 beds for 75 patients. We haven't turned anyone away. We'll put them in the chapel at the back of the hospital if we have to."

Most of the wounded civilians were being taken to the two public hospitals still open. At noon today fighting raged around the largest public hospital, Cho Ray, in Cholon, the Chinese quarter, and patients could not be moved inside. Military and civilian ambulances began to move into some of the devastated slum areas to seek out civilians wounded as long as two days ago.

One convoy of five ambulances sped through the center of the city, packed with wounded.

Sniper fire could still be heard in the center of Saigon, and police and soldiers were nervous. Refugees poured in from the western suburbs.

$800,000 Project:

State Planning Alewife Cleanup

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has announced plans for an $800,000 alewife cleanup program for Lake Michigan beaches this summer.

Romney said plans drawn up by the State Conservation Department call for state and local governments to share in the cost. The state's share would be provided by a $400,000 supplemental appropriation.

The governor said the funds would be held in reserve, for use only if necessary.

Romney said he decided to ask for the funds early after the conservation department predicted that the dieoff of the tiny, herring-like fish would be as severe this summer as last year.

Dead alewives creating a nuisance and stench along the Lake Michigan Beaches were blamed for an estimated $55 million loss to the tourist industry last summer.

Romney said he has been advised that the U.S. Department of Interior and the Federal Office of Emergency Planning will not be able to contribute any funds to the kind of program that will be needed.

First part of the two-pronged attack on the nuisance fish will be to hire commercial fishermen to net them out of the lake. The second part will be a cleanup by automatic beach-sweepers and other means of the alewives driving in to shore.

The Conservation Department had suggested a figure of $827,000 for the cost of the cleanup of the fish kill expected.

Department experts said more than 500 miles of Lake Michigan beaches will have to be cleared off the dead fish between mid-June and mid-August.

Some $200,000 is figured as the cost of payments to commercial fishermen and $600,000 for the cost of machines and the manpower needed for the beach cleanup.

It also is hoped that local communities along the shoreline and county highway departments will help with the job.

Eventually, the fish experts said, predatory salmon and lake trout will do the job by feeding on the alewives.

Commies Holding Hue; Fighting In Saigon Continues

SAIGON AP — U. S. and South Vietnamese officials said today their forces were crushing the biggest Communist offensive of the war with skyrocketing losses to the enemy. But Red troops were reported in control of much of Hue, the ancient imperial capital, and South Vietnamese dive-bombers still roared over the streets of Saigon attacking Viet Cong holdouts.

Associated Press correspondent John Lengel reported from Hue, 50 miles south of the demilitarized zone, that four battalions of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese controlled most of the streets in the coastal city. Lengel said U. S. Marines and infantrymen and South Vietnamese troops were battling more to maintain their positions than to oust the enemy.

"Being Defeated"
South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu and U. S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker went on television to assert that the Communists were being defeated with unparalleled losses.

The U. S. Command said:

10,553 of the enemy had been killed in the four-day countrywide assaults on the cities and towns of South Vietnam. Allied losses were put at 917 dead and 2,817 wounded, including 281 Americans killed and 1,195 wounded.

Thieu said, "The back of the Viet Cong attack has been broken." He said there is still Communist resistance "in a few provincial capitals . . . but we can consider they have been totally defeated."

Being Driven Out

"Although the enemy raided numerous cities and towns throughout the republic and achieved some temporary successes, they have failed to take and hold any major installations or localities," said a U. S. communiqué. "Although some enemy units are still occupying positions in a few cities, they are rapidly being driven out. The allies have detained 3,076 suspects and captured over 1,800 individual and over 300 crew-served weapons."

But as Thieu and Bunker broadcast, South Vietnamese bombers were strafing a block of houses near the racetrack in the southwestern end of Saigon to clear out Communist troops.

Guerrillas In Streets
Rockets streaked from armed helicopters into other Viet Cong entrenched in a crowded squatter area in a northwestern suburb of the capital.

There was fighting in at least half a dozen other spots in Saigon.

Marauding bands of guerrillas roved the capital's streets, sniping at helicopters approaching the top of the six-story U.S. Embassy building. South Vietnamese rangers caught one group of Viet Cong eating soup at a sidewalk restaurant.

The heaviest fighting was reported in the southwestern section of the city around the Buddhist An Quang Pagoda.

Mortar Fire

Lengel reported the Communists in Hue were attacking with machine guns, mortars and rockets. He said the enemy fire was so intense that two U.S. helicopters were shot down as they tried to run the gauntlet to collect wounded.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese held a major part of the old walled citadel, once seat of the Vietnamese emperors but now a pile of ruins, and the headquarters of the South Vietnamese army's 1st Infantry Division.

No Ground Force Callup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military officials say they don't foresee any imminent call-up of ground force reservists as the United States readies today a second bid to recover the USS Pueblo through talks with her North Korean captors.

The State Department announced Thursday U.S. willingness to engage in face-to-face talks with North Korea aimed at gaining return of the Pueblo and her 83-man crew.

The action followed a broadcast hint by North Korea that a settlement might be possible through new talks at Panmunjom, the Korean War truce site.

South Vietnamese troops held a small part of the citadel, while the Americans were fighting from a half-block-square compound housing the U.S. advisory headquarters.

Refugees Increase

Lengel said refugees had poured into the city, swelling the normal 40,000 population enormously, and civilian casualties from the fighting were believed high. He reported a senior American civilian adviser to the pacification program may have been captured and the fate of nine other American civilians was not known.

"No one really controls Hue," Lengel said. "There are islands of government resistance and islands of Viet Cong strength."

Reports of civilian casualties were lagging far behind the military figures. Thieu in a preliminary report said 136 civilians had been killed and 1,841 wounded, including 90 killed and 1,082 wounded in Saigon. But reports from other cities and towns indicated the figure would increase greatly as more information came in.

Death Toll Soars

The total of enemy dead reported by the allies was more than three times the previous record for enemy dead in one week of the war. But the American death toll was well below the weekly record of 337 last May, during a period of heavy shelling of Marine posts below the DMZ.

Fighting in Saigon raged around the capital's biggest hospital, Cho Ray, the race track in the southwestern section and the South Vietnamese armored headquarters in the northwest. A government police station was reported overrun.

The Viet Cong had cut the

Five State Men Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Michigan men were among the list of 60 servicemen killed in action in Vietnam which the Defense Department released Thursday.

Two Army men killed were Capt. Joseph C. Zamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Zamara of Grand Rapids, and Sgt. Robert A. Warner, husband of Mrs. Rosemarie Warner of Grand Rapids.

Marines who died in combat were Lance Cpl. Patrick J. McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McKinley of Trenton, and Lance Cpl. Gary D. Scribner, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Parker of Memphis.

Also killed was Navy Hospitalman Charles W. Miller, son of Gerald W. Miller of Lansing.

LBJ, Meany Plan Labor Aid To Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and AFL-CIO President George Meany launched today a political road show aimed at lining up the 14 million-member labor organization behind the Democratic ticket.

They were in back-patting rapport on Vietnam and a wide sweep of domestic programs and problems.

And they were in total agreement Congress should enact job and housing programs, additional education and health measures and, as Johnson put it, "at the same time protect freedom."

Johnson dismissed the idea that domestic problems can't be tackled while the Vietnam conflict rages.

"It's just the same as saying you can take care of one child and you can't take care of the other," he said.

This was in a conversation filmed at the White House Jan. 15, for a premier Saturday in New Orleans and showings from then on at union meetings and regional sessions of labor's Committee on Political Education.

Veteran political rail birds could recall no parallel to the movie.

In it, Johnson and Meany spent considerable time on mutual compliments without ever questioning that the President is going to run for another term and that Meany is going all the way with LBJ on both foreign and domestic policy.

In a bit of political whip cracking at the end, Meany said elections are won back home by leaders of the labor movement and they should start now getting registration drives under way and collecting cash for COPE.

The President nodded appreciatively to labor, mothers and teachers for giving a helping hand with "a massive educational measure" supplemented by more than 20 other education bills.

He also thanked the AFL-CIO for helping to pass the medicare and medicaid bills.

Johnson had 17 kind words for businessmen.

"I am happy to say that the businessmen generally have tried to listen and to be cooperative," the President said.

Ground Hogs Don't Agree

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Did the groundhog see his shadow today? Will there be six more weeks of winter, or is spring just around the corner?

Punxsutawney Phil, out in the west, sneaked out of his favorite burrow on Gobbler's Knob as the damp night turned into a rainy dawn.

"He saw his shadow during one brief instant of blinding sunlight at exactly 7:29 this morning and was frightened back inside," observed Sam Light, the happy, go-go president of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club.

It wasn't exactly the same performance at rival Octorara Creek, near Quarryville in the east. There the veteran weather-animal—he doesn't even have a name—poked his head out of a hole, shook off the dampness and started sniffing around above ground.

He didn't scurry back.

Both Parties Say Dick Is Favorite

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon has officially opened his campaign for the White House and prominent politicians of both parties tag him the favorite to win the Republican presidential nomination.

At 55, Nixon is eight years older than when John F. Kennedy beat him by a whisker in the 1960 election. He said those years gave him the chance to reflect on the tasks and problems the nation faces "and I believe I have found some answers."

The former vice president, who made his official announcement Thursday, headed for New Hampshire today to launch his campaign to win the March 12 primary there. His prime opponent is Michigan Gov. George Romney and polls indicate Nixon is the 3-1 choice among the Granite State voters.

Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey said in Washington Nixon has the edge.

"Neither universally loved nor hated within his party, Nixon swims in midstream," Bailey said in a statement. "He is in the best position to attract all persuasions of Republicans."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who's been mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate, said Nixon is pulling farther ahead of Romney.

Interviewed by the Gannett Newspapers, Reagan said unless Romney stages a comeback, "it's difficult to see how they can have a meaningful contest."

As for himself, Reagan said he isn't interested in being vice president and wouldn't accept the nomination for the second spot under any circumstances.

Snow Improves Derby Courses At Gladstone

Snow continued to fall on Gladstone and Little Bay de Noc this morning, improving conditions for the 2nd annual Ban de Noc Snowmobile Derby Saturday and Sunday.

Race officials said this morning that the two-day program of competition definitely will be held, although the cross country course may be shortened because of slushy ice in areas where the drivers were to leave Little Bay de Noc for rides through woods on the Sturgeon Peninsula.

Work started this morning on changing the oval track in front of the yacht club and it is expected that the half-mile banked track will be in good condition by Sunday.

Between 200 and 300 drivers are expected to compete and race officials are preparing for near 10,000 spectators.

The program begins tonight with a parade of snowmobiles through Gladstone at 7:30 p.m. with a smelt feed following at the Yacht Club.

Drives will be able to register from 7 to 8 p.m. today and also from 8:30 to 11 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday. Races are scheduled at 1 p.m. both days with the cross country event Saturday and competition on the half-mile banked oval track in front of the Yacht Club Sunday.

Events for modified and stock machines are planned as well as powderpuff and junior races Sunday.

The building will be constructed at 1228 N. 18th St.

It is expected that building plans for the general construction phase will be available to contractors next week with bid opening about March 5.

Longest Snowmobile Safari Ends At Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE — The longest snowmobile trip ever made exclusively in the Upper Peninsula is over, but already the Peninsula Pathfinders are planning another trip for next winter.

"Next year it'll be a Copper Harbor to Green Bay trek," said Roy Frieberg of Marquette, trail boss.

Frieberg led a group of 11 snowmobile drivers into Sault Ste. Marie's Lake Superior college campus after completing a 498-mile jaunt from Ironwood in four days.

He called the trek a "complete success" and predicted that as more and better trails open up long snowmobile trips will become increasingly popular with visitors as well as residents. The 11 men made overnight stops at L'Anse, Munising and St. Ignace.

Although there was some travel along state highways, about 75 per cent of the ride was on summer roads not plowed during the winter. The safari group crossed parts of 10 counties and experienced only minor breakdowns.

Modified Events Added To Derby

HERMANVILLE—Races for modified snowmobiles have been added to the competition program of the Hermansville Snowmobile Derby Sunday.

Previously, the race committee of the sponsoring William Anderson Sportsman's Club had indicated that competition would be scheduled only for stock machines.

Three sections for modified machines are planned, from 0 to 325 cubic centimeters engine size; 326 to 375 cc, and 375 and over.

Five divisions for stock machines are also scheduled. Registration of drivers is set for 11 a.m. at the Croation Hall with competition starting at 1:30 a.m. at Hermansville Lake. A work bee on the various course—obstacle, straightaway and oval—will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Race officials said inquiries have come from Florence, Niagara, Iron Mountain, Quinnesec, Norway, Vulcan, Powers-Spaulding, Bark River, Stephenson, Carney - Nadeau and other communities in regard to the races. A large field of drivers is anticipated.

Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to race winners. For spectators, snowmobile dealers of the area will have machines available for demonstration rides south of the race courses.

Most of the work on the cross is being done in Canada but it has a way of moving around. The plant looks like a robust wheat plant but varies considerably depending upon the varieties of wheat and rye used in the crosses. It has the potential of being a new small grain cereal crop although it is too early to make a serious judgment on its future.

Farmers are being urged to let the experiment stations do the trial and error work.

roads around Saigon, and food was becoming a critical problem for the city's 3 million residents and refugees from the suburbs.

Fight Fronts Elsewhere, fierce fighting was reported at the airfield in the provincial capital of Vinh Long, 70 miles south of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. A U.S. Navy base for river patrol boats was evacuated and a company of U.S. 9th Infantry Division troops was flown in. About 400 enemy troops were reported inside the city.

Fighting also continued at My Tho, the delta's biggest city 80 miles south of Saigon. South Vietnamese troops reported killing 100 Viet Cong just outside the city.

Attacks were reported for the first time on Baria, 30 miles southeast of Saigon, and Phu Cuong, 20 miles north of the capital.

Communist troops were reported to have made their way also into Moc Hoa, a provincial capital 50 miles southwest of Saigon.

Reports from Dalat, the mountain resort 140 miles northeast of Saigon, said enemy forces still were in the town.

In the far north, U.S. spokesmen reported Quang Tri, 19 miles south of the demilitarized zone, was back in allied hands after two days of heavy fighting.

American Impotence

President Johnson, who hustled into escalation of the Vietnam war in the Gulf of Tonkin incident, isn't doing anything of the kind in the Pueblo incident in North Korea.

The incident shows the United States — the most powerful nation in the world — frustrated and looking rather foolish. Little North Korea seized an American spy ship in international waters and towed it into its Wonsan harbor where it is holding it and its crew of 83 Americans despite all our protests and efforts to get the United Nations to do something about it.

We don't seem to hold any naval maneuvers without the Russian navy sending a trawler to watch our every move, but we are unable to even spy in the open ocean off North Korea without the humiliation of having an American naval vessel seized.

Our spy ships had been harassed before so the commander of the Pueblo thought it was more of the same when Russian-built North Korean torpedo boats surrounded him, but the Pueblo was boarded and seized. It was an act of war.

But we don't want any more wars. We have a red hot war going in Vietnam, and have troops tied up in Europe and we're garrisoning a troubled truce in Korea. If we are to respond to every act of communist aggression with armed action we will defeat ourselves by over-expanding our resources all around the world.

We had no provision for effective protection of the Pueblo. She lacked even the means of destroying her spying equipment. American aid was too distant to be used, even if it could be used. The President heard about the incident too late to do anything except after the fact.

We can destroy North Korea, but we can't make her behave.

The same thing goes for Vietnam.

We keep asking Russia to help us and she keeps supplying little nations with the means of thumbing their noses at us. She is, with rather modest outlay, causing us to make huge expenditures, so she's winning and we're losing. The process has limits, but they're not in sight yet.

Russian Premier Kosygin told Life magazine "I have no authority to conduct talks with anybody about ending the war in Vietnam. The Vietnamese side has not given us any authority to do so."

What hambone! If Russia were to end aid to North Vietnam the war would be over. She dare not, she probably reasons, do this, because Red China would make capital of it to help its own ambition to rule the communist world.

Our involvement in Asia and our efforts to be a policeman there expose us to bloody, costly frustrations in Vietnam and now hijacking by North Korea, a nation so puny that the pride of its navy is two Russian-built minesweepers.

We went into Korea to fight North Korean aggression in South Korea with a United Nations sponsored international army. We supplied most of the arms and the men, of course. Now there's a new Korean incident and no prospect that the United Nations will help us get our ship back or our men back.

We have gone a long way to get ourselves into deep trouble.

Y' All Come

We are living in a "go-go" age and nothing proves it more positively than the zooming popularity of snowmobiles in the Upper Peninsula. The growling, snorting, mile-gobbling machines dot the snow covered countryside throughout the region.

They purr smoothly through farm fields and reach an ear-shattering roar as drivers hit the throttle to reach speeds of up to 50 miles per hour. You find them everywhere — deep in wooded areas, on Lake Michigan and inland lakes and rivers covered with ice and even in vacant lots on the city's outskirts.

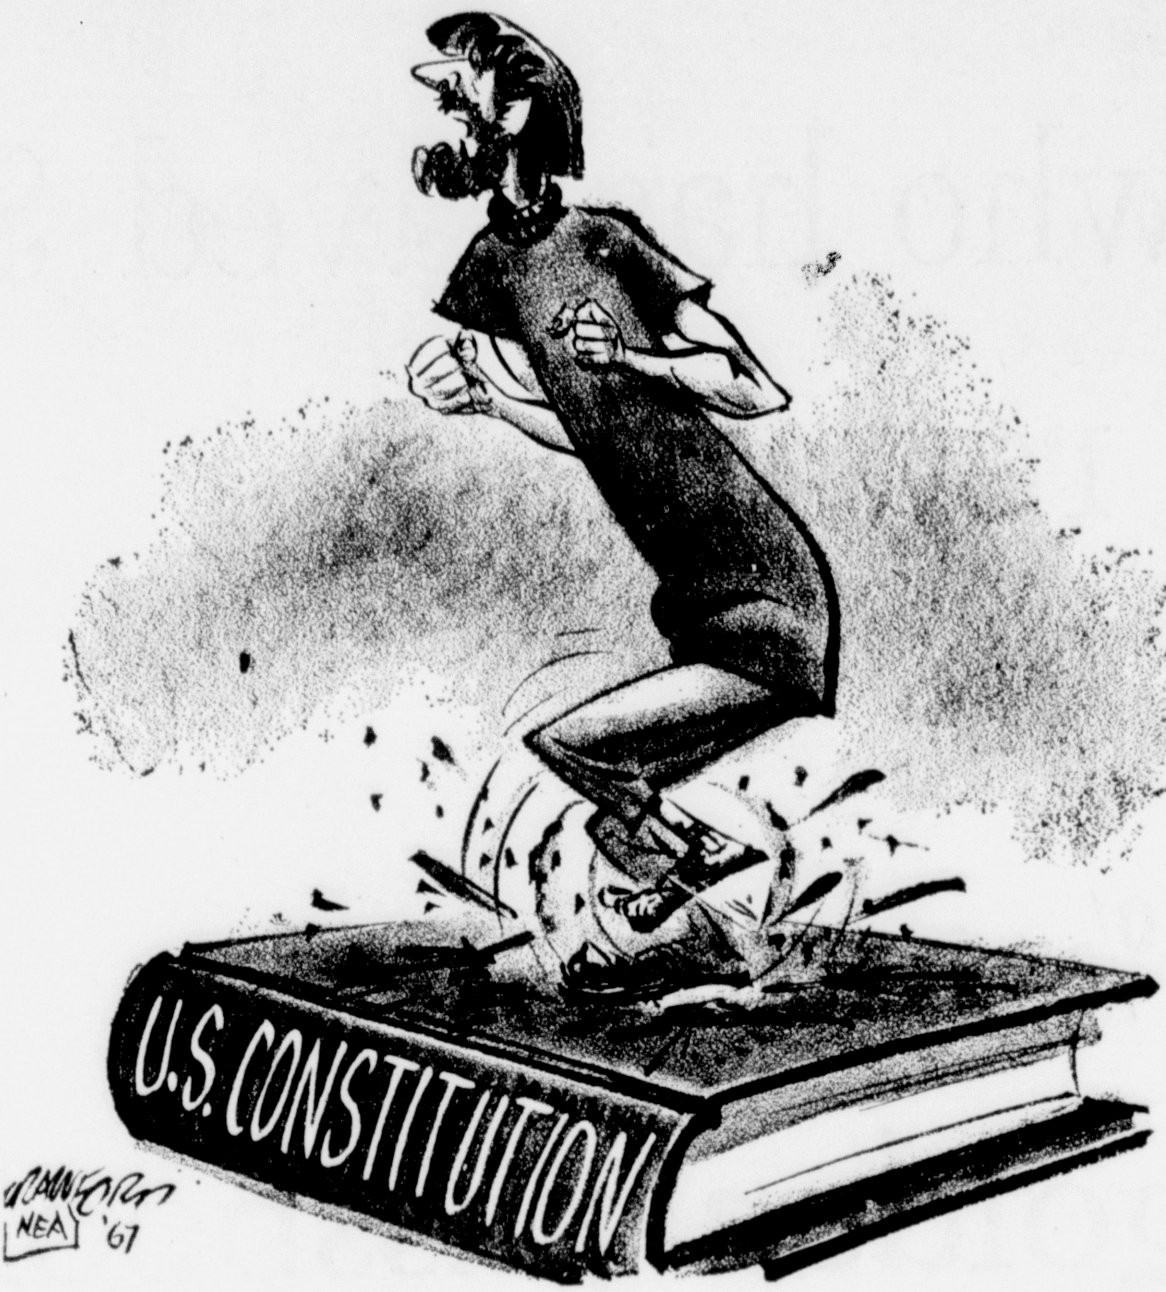

The snowmobile fad is sweeping across the North Country and promoters are getting into the act with derbies, rallies and championship racing events. Gladstone's second annual Bay de Noc Snowmobile Derby will be staged this weekend with 25 races on tap and $2,800 in prize money for the winners.

The Gladstone Yacht Club is the sponsoring organization. Hermansville's second annual derby will be staged Sunday at the Hermansville Lake, sponsored by the William Anderson Sportsman's Club. The events will draw thousands of spectators.

The sudden surge of snowmobile popularity parallels the population explosion of its summer cousin, the motorcycle, in recent years. Not so long ago the 'cycle rider was a relatively rare breed but today the city streets, highways and country roads are flooded with motorcycle and motorbike riders. Young and old use the speedy little machines to zip to work or school and they are standard equipment at most lake cottages and summer homes.

Manufacture and distribution of snowmobiles and motorcycles have provided new employment in the Upper Peninsula. Both fit in perfectly with the area image of outdoor recreation. And they are exuberant examples of our fast-paced, go-go style of living.

Income Tax Deductions:

Rules Are Changed For Medical Costs

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Examine your deductible personal expenses when you make out your tax return on 1967 income.

For many people the standard deduction which the government allows everyone filing a return more than covers their deductible expenses.

If yours exceed the standard deduction, you can claim them in full but then you'll have to itemize them to prove you had them. In this case you must use Form 1040 and figure your own tax.

There have been some changes in the rules on deductions for medical expenses.

In their 1966 returns people 65 or older could deduct their medical expenses in full. Not any longer. In their returns on 1967 income they have been put under the same rules as those applying to people under 65.

Now No Limit

(Note: There used to be a limit on the total amount anyone could deduct for medical expenses. No longer. There's no limit now.)

But here are the rules, although before you start remember you must not include in your medical expenses those for which you have been reimbursed: 1. You can deduct one-half the cost of your medical insurance up to a limit of $150, whether or not you have any other deductible medical expenses. (But when you claim medical deductions you must itemize them and cannot use the standard deduction.)

2. Then if you have other deductible medical expenses you must figure the cost of medicines and drugs separately from the cost of medical care itself.

3. First—add up your medicine—drugs costs. Then, from that total, subtract 1 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040. What's left is deductible—but not quite.

4. You then add this medicine—drugs costs. Then, from the rest of the cost of your medical insurance. (See No. 1 above on the cost of the first half of the medical insurance.)

3 Per Cent Rule

5. You now have the total medical cost deductible. But you can't deduct that in full or perhaps even at all. You can deduct only that part of the total medical cost that exceeds 3 per cent of your income on Page 1, Line 9, Form 1040.

Note this: If you are 65 or over you can deduct nothing for the hospitalization part of the government's medicare program. But if you made monthly payments for the second or supplemental part of that program—medical treatment—you can deduct in full for that. The cost in 1967 was about $3 a month.

Here are some other personal expenses you can deduct:

State and local sales taxes. At least 44 states and the District of Columbia have such taxes. The instruction pamphlet sent all taxpayers by the Internal Revenue Service lists those states and how much tax you can reasonably deduct.

You can deduct for state gasoline taxes, but not federal, and here again in the IRS pamphlet you'll find a list of the states and their gasoline taxes per gallon.

Contributions

You can deduct personal property and real estate taxes: interest on your personal loan or house mortgage and the interest on delinquent taxes and personal property bought on the installment plan.

You can deduct for contributions to charitable, religious or educational organizations, such as the Community Chest, Salvation Army, churches, Red Cross, heart and cancer associations, tuberculosis societies, and gifts, but not dues, of the YMCA, YWCA, YMHA, YWHA, the VFW, the American Legion, and CARE.

You can deduct for union dues and dues to professional societies, alimony payments by the person making them, fees to employment agencies, and books and newspapers bought for use in your profession.

Education Expense

You can deduct expenses for your education if it was to help or improve you in keeping up your present job or to meet your employer's express requirements for keeping your salary.

You can't deduct if the education was for personal reasons or to help you get a better job.

You can deduct state and local income taxes, but not federal income taxes. You can also deduct losses on property such as your home, clothing, or automobile destroyed or damaged by fire; property, including cash, stolen from you; the cost of business entertainment.

Here are some expenses you can't deduct:

Travel to and from work; entertaining friends; bribes and illegal payments; losses on property lost in storage or transit; losses on damage by rust, erosion, or deterioration.

You cannot deduct gifts to relatives, friends or other individuals or to political organizations or candidates or to social clubs, labor unions, a chamber of commerce or to propaganda organizations.

Dog License Out

You cannot deduct federal Social Security taxes withheld from your pay or Social Security payments you make for someone working in your home, like a maid; auto licenses, unless based on the value of the car; drivers' licenses, auto inspection or parking fees; or income taxes you pay for someone else.

You cannot deduct the federal tax on telephone calls or the tax on plane fares.

You cannot deduct for marriage license fees, fishing or hunting licenses, dog licenses, federal estate, inheritance or gift taxes, or the self-employment tax you pay on earnings from self-employment.

The list of deductible and non-deductible expenses is too long to be included here in full.

In addition to the IRS pamphlet, you can get a lot of help in all directions from the government's 160-page booklet, "Your Federal Income Tax," which costs 50 cents at an IRS office or from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 20402.

BARBS

You can always find it in the Yellow Pages, if someone will just clue you to how the darned things are indexed.

The man at the weather bureau who predicts light snow obviously cleans his walks with a snow blower.

The human foot contains 26 bones, and all of 'em ache after a trip to the supermarket.

Texas at one time was an independent republic, and you can get an argument now and then that things never changed.

One of our readers is quite bitter about today's hand. It seems that in a team match he sat West and opened the six of hearts against the diamond slam. His partner won with the ace, and since our correspondent made his king of trumps later on, they scored what should have been a nice profitable 100 points.

He felt that North and South had overbid, and we have to agree with him. South had a tough choice of bids at this second turn. Two diamonds would be an underbid, three diamonds or anything else an overbid, so South had overbid when he went to three diamonds. After that overbid, South should have contented himself with merely going to five diamonds. His four spade call suggested a slam, and while North might have bid only five diamonds, North assumed that his partner was demanding a slam if North could take the second heart lead.

In any event, the slam wasn't too bad a contract. We have bid and made many worse ones.

Why was our friend bitter? It seems that the South player on his team chose the underbid of two diamonds. North might have passed but saw no reason not to raise to three diamonds. Then this South corrected his previous underbid in the worst possible way. He went to three no-trump.

West made his normal opening of the fourth best heart, and the defense opened up with five heart tricks. They still had to make either the king of diamonds or queen of clubs, so plus 100 for beating six diamonds turned out to be a loss of 100 points of three International Match Points.

Our friend claims that he was quite philosophical about this but really blew his top when the South member of his team criticized him for not doubling the diamond slam.

Ann Landers

Prison May Help, Not Hurt Boy, 17

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the woman who wrote about her 17-year-old stepson who was sent to prison. She said, "His life is ruined."

Will you please tell her Ann, that his life is not ruined. It might be just beginning? I know another boy who was sent to the state penitentiary in (please don't name it) when he was 17. He was a wild, incorrigible, hoodlum, and had been in trouble several times. The prison sentence changed his life. He was put to work cutting trees in a government forest. It was the first honest labor he had ever done — and he loved it. He decided to learn all he could about forestry and he soaked up knowledge like a blotter. By the time he had finished serving his time he had become an authority. This accomplishment gave him self-respect and a purpose in life which he never had before.

That was 20 years ago. Today the "wild, incorrigible hoodlum" is one of the leading conservationists in the country. Few people know of his background, but I think his story is worth repeating. It might give hope to others. — HIS AUNT

Dear Aunt: I'm sorry you asked me not to name the prison because that institution deserves praise. Too many reformatories and penal institutions concentrate on punishing inmates instead of rehabilitating them. The goal should not be retaliation but training and teaching prisoners to make an honest living so that when they leave prison they can be law-abiding citizens.

Dear Ann Landers: Two and a half years ago I divorced my husband. My children are now 5 and 7 years of age. I have not dated because I haven't felt emotionally ready but that I've recovered from the traumatic experience of divorce I want to go out with men.

How does a mother explain to her young children that Mommy is dating? I want their lives to be better than mine has been and I don't want to give them any wrong ideas. —A BRIGHTER TOMORROW

Dear Brighter: A divorced woman has the right to go out with friends—male and female —so why be defensive?

Make it a point to treat all male companions as casual friends in the presence of your children. Keep any hint of a romance out of the picture until you become genuinely serious — which I hope will not occur for quite some time.

Dear Ann Landers: Does a wife have the right to ask her husband where he is going when he leaves the house after supper? Does she have the right to ask him where he has been when he comes home at 2:30 in the morning with liquor on his breath and lipstick on his shirt?

Lennie and I have been married for less than a year and I am expecting a baby soon. I thought our love was bigger than anything we might come up against. I quit high school to marry Lennie. He is 19 and I am 16 but today I feel like 80. The minister who married us tried to talk us out of it but we wouldn't listen. I'm beginning to see his point. Please tell me what to do. — OLD AT 16

Dear Old: A fine how-do-you-do—and another good example of kids who don't know any more about the responsibilities of marriage than a hog knows about Sunday.

Go back to the minister who married you and ask for his help. If he suggests counseling, take his advice this time. You and Lennie need to cram about 10 years of growing up into the next six months. Good luck.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35c in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. © Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Insulator Shooters Have Victim In Hospital Here

The persons who use guns to shoot insulators on electric lines — creating a great danger and much damage every year—have a victim in St. Francis Hospital.

He is Gary Sedenquist, 936 N.

In Service

Army Pvt. Daniel R. Allen, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Allen, 1513 11th Ave. S., Escanaba, was assigned to the 299th Engineer Battalion near Pleiku, Vietnam, as a special purpose equipment repair parts specialist.

Aviation Storekeeper First Class Robert E. Guindon, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Guindon, 2205 Ludington St., Escanaba participated in anti-submarine warfare operations off the Bahama Islands while serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Essex. The Navy's oldest aircraft carrier on active duty, the Essex serves as a mobile air base and logistic support center for a U.S. Navy Hunter Killer group. The Essex is homeported at the U.S. Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R.I.

18th St., who is in isolation in the local hospital recovering from electrical flash burns covering 20 per cent of his body. He was burned in an accident on Dec. 29 while employed by Upper Peninsula Power Co. as a journeyman lineman when his crew was changing insulators damaged by vandals on the 69,000 volt transmission line near Chandler, north of Escanaba.

His life was saved by the quick action of his fellow workers, who had been thoroughly trained in method of resuscitation and lifesaving, but he has been hospitalized since for treatment of the burns suffered in the accident.

U.P. Power patrols its entire big electric transmission system in the Upper Peninsula at least twice a year with a helicopter to inspect for damage caused by hunters to insulators and other equipment.

"The maintenance costs caused by this kind of vandalism affects the cost of electric service, of course," says Gary Barton of Escanaba manager of the Southern Division of U.P. Power.

"We have been fortunate that electric service interruptions are infrequent. While some service outages are caused by uncontrollable elements like snow, wind and lightning, an unnecessary and most-feared cause of outages is the willful and malicious destruction of insulators by vandals.

"They may not realize that their destruction of high voltage equipment can painfully injure our maintenance men—as in the case of Gary Sedenquist. Should an energized conductor be severed or knocked from the pole, a person might be killed, even though they were not actually in contact with the fallen wire. The shooters who damage insulators don't seem to realize that they're playing with death themselves."

U.P. Power says that wherever vandals can be identified prosecution is asked.

State Senator Joseph S. Mack (D-Ironwood) has introduced a bill which would extend to rabbit hunters the same considerations given fox hunters. Mack's bill would permit the training of rabbit dogs at any time.

Council Moves To Amend Travel Trailer Ordinance

A change in Escanaba's ordinance requiring registration of all travel trailers parked within the city limits was initiated Thursday night by the City Council.

Responding to a group of residents who protested the $2 fee for registering travel trailers, Council authorized City Manager George Harvey to prepare amendments to Ordinance 428 which would eliminate the fee requirement and provide for a fine if trailers are not registered within 30 days of their purchase by city residents who plan to keep them in the city.

The change was favored by the trailer-owning residents who appeared before the council.

The residents pointed out that the current ordinance is not being enforced and that the change would provide equal treatment for all travel trailer owners.

According to figures prepared by City Manager George Harvey there are 113 travel trailers parked within Escanaba city limits, but only 21 of them have been registered.

Fee Is Out

The proposed change would eliminate the $2 registration fee and provide instead a $5 fine for anyone who failed to register the trailer. In addition, size limits on travel trailers allowable to be parked within the city would be increased to 23 feet from the current 20 feet to allow for the larger size of the units.

Council is expected to consider the amendments at its next meeting.

In other business, the Council:

Subject to police department approval, allowed transfer of liquor licenses from Gust Asp to Louis and Donna Weiland, who are purchasing Asp's business at 616 Ludington St.

Referred to the Planning Commission a request by State Wide Real Estate to change zoning on a parcel of land at 5th Ave. S., and S. 28th St., from Class A residential to Class C multiple family to allow construction of apartments;

Set Feb. 15 as the date for public hearing of objections to assessments for water main extensions on 8th Ave. S., from 23rd St. to the Willow Creek Rd., and also on S. 23rd St., from 14th Ave. S. some 4,400 feet south toward Sylvan Point.

Authorized Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and City Clerk Donald Guindon to enter into a lease agreement with Bay de Noc Community College for rental of the city-owned Northern Motor Rebuilder building to permit the college to begin a vocational training program for welders.

Bill Supported

Supported Michigan House Bill 2646 which requires the state to take a financial part in upgrading of sewage treatment facilities, and opposed House Bill 2035 which places all municipal water utilities under jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

The sewage treatment bill would revise the financing formula from the present 30 per cent state, 70 per cent city, to 25 per cent state, 25 per cent city, and 50 per cent federal funding.

Council said the municipal water utilities bill would take away from the city the power to establish water rates, etc., and place it in the hands of a state agency. Council said that the bill usurps municipal authority.

Sen. Long Urges Senate Speedup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long proposes a dial-a-vote system to speed decision making in the Senate.

"I'm just quietly trying to do a little behind the scenes work," the Louisiana Democrat said, "trying to get them to wake up to the fact that the telephone exists."

His objective: A system which would permit senators who are away from the floor to vote by telephone on bills and have their votes counted. He suggested the Senate secretary could handle the telephone balloting.

Tobin To Direct Dedication Plans For Air Terminal

The City Council Thursday night named Claude Tobin Jr. of Escanaba chairman of an executive committee to coordinate plans for a major program in connection with the dedication of Escanaba's new Municipal Airport terminal building.

Dedication ceremonies are expected to be scheduled with the completion of the terminal in August or September.

City Manager George Harvey told the Council the city would like to invite a nationally known aviator to head the program.

Persons like Jimmy Doolittle, who led the famous World War II raid on Japan, and Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker have been mentioned as possibilities.

In addition, Harvey said, attempts will be made to obtain the Goodyear blimp and the Navy Blue Angels or Air Force Thunderbirds precision flying teams.

Eight other men were appointed to serve with Tobin on the executive committee. They are Charles Sedenquist, John Anthony, Bill Morrow, Kenneth West, Thomas Dufour, Donald Breault, Pete Zimmer and Wally Arntzen. The men represent elements of government, business, industry, labor and aviation.

Construction on the terminal building began last fall.

First meeting of the Executive Committee has been called for 4 p.m. Monday in the City Manager's office of the City Hall.

Church Changes 'Homo' Attitude

By GEORGE CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — He's a man in his late 40s, a regular churchgoer. But he's afraid to discuss his problem with fellow believers, or even his minister, lest they ostracize him.

In telling about it, he uses a pseudonym, Marius Paine. He's what he terms a "hidden homosexual"—one of an estimated 2 million to 17 million Americans.

He tells of a "long-term love relationship" with another man, and says: "I consider myself a committed Christian. But I have the feeling nonetheless that I would be rejected, if publicly identified as a homosexual, just as quickly by my worshippers as I would by my business associates."

"Sadly, I know from the experiences of two others that I cannot confide in my minister either. Some of my friends think that I am insane to put up with this but my church life means a lot to me."

"I've made some sort of peace with God. I lean on the belief that we are all sinners, and if heterosexual sinners can sit in the pews each Sunday, so can I."

Causes Controversy

His sense of churchly rejection of those in his condition, described in a newly issued study by the United Presbyterian Church, is part of a situation being widely re-examined today in religious circles.

It's also causing some controversy.

Down through history, Christianity has variously shunned and condemned homosexuality as a special evil, but a growing number of Protestant and Catholic theologians are urging more compassionate understanding of the problem.

Plan To Outlaw Diet Pill Drug

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration disclosed today it is moving to halt the manufacture and distribution of thyroid-digitalis preparations used as diet pills.

Dr. James L. Goddard, FDA commissioner, told Senate investigators the agency feels it now has sufficient evidence to prove the drugs constitute a danger to health.

He said seizure actions recently were taken against three manufacturers and additional seizures from other firms are anticipated momentarily.

Goddard testified at the wind-up of a two-week hearing by the Senate antitrust subcommittee on the multimillion-dollar diet pill industry.

At the outset of his testimony, Goddard said no drug can safely control the problem of obesity.

"At the very best," he said, "their potential is secondary to the elimination of the cause of overeating."

Arkansas Gov. Skeptical Of Pauper Graves Story

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A prisoner who led authorities to the unmarked graves of three men at Cummins Prison Farm has been transferred to another prison because of reported threats on his life.

Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton said Thursday the "indications of threats" against Reuben Johnson, 59, gave credence to Johnson's story that murdered inmates were buried on the prison grounds.

Johnson pointed out the pasture at the prison where the skeletons of three men were exhumed Monday, touching off speculation that more bodies were buried in a clandestine graveyard for murdered convicts. Johnson says he helped bury 10 or 12 slain inmates.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was skeptical about reports from some state officials that the bones came from a paupers graveyard.

No Records

"I am sure they would be able to produce the records if it is a paupers graveyard," Rockefeller said. "There are no records available showing that they ever established a paupers graveyard at Cummins."

Murton related details of the alleged threat against Johnson at a joint news conference with the governor.

Murton, who became Superintendent Jan. 1, said he had transferred Johnson to the smaller Tucker Prison Farm 30 miles southeast of Little Rock Wednesday. Johnson became the first Negro inmate at Tucker except for those under a death sentence.

Murton said information had drifted to him from the white inmate population at Cummins that "several of them were going to wipe him (Johnson) out."

"I don't know if the report was valid or not, but it might be and it certainly lends credence to his story," Murton said.

Johnson has estimated that as many as 2,000 bodies might be buried at Cummins.

Motive Obvious

Murton, who came here to discuss "recent developments" at the prison with the governor, said the motive of any men who might threaten Johnson's life was obvious.

"Some may have thought they might be implicated and possibly face court prosecution," Murton said.

Rockefeller appeared to be irritated at the amount of publicity received from the discovery of the skeletons.

"I don't look forward to running a sideshow at Cummins," Rockefeller said. "This is a prison."

Rockefeller said he and Murton had received letters and telephone calls from persons claiming to be ex-convicts in Arkansas who said they knew where other bodies were buried.

He suggested that some of these reports were from "publicity seekers."

An investigation is under way by the criminal investigation division of the state police to determine whether the skeletons came from a paupers graveyard or a secret burial ground for murdered inmates.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of around a couple of points were scored by Unexcelled, Levin - Townsend Computer and Syntex. CCI slid more than 3 points on word that merger discussions with Whitaker Corp. had been discontinued. Cameo Parkway Records advanced more than a point. Royal American, unchanged, was the volume pacemaker.

City Downtown Panel To Meet

The Escanaba Downtown Development Committee will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Junior High cafeteria to discuss proposed downtown projects, Henry Dubbele, chairman, announced.

The committee will meet with property owners affected by proposed projects in the areas of from 13th to 14th Streets from Ludington St. to 2nd Ave. N., and also from 8th to 9th Streets from Ludington St. to 2nd Ave. N.

Those two areas were selected on the basis of the following criteria:

1. Functional relationship to the entire downtown district providing a major anchorage between which existing strengths can be maintained and new and existing smaller stores can be strengthened;

2. Site Cost—the blocks selected show the largest change in assessed valuation in relation to the adjoining blocks, moving from the center of the district outward;

3. Major physical facilities proposed will establish in easily recognizable terms the east and west boundaries of the central business district with public services and offices extending to the east and heavy, commercial goods and services extending to the west.

Evacuate Homes In State Floods

By The Associated Press

An unusually heavy rainfall on top of melting snow in Southeastern Lower Michigan washed out some roads and flooded areas around rivers emptying into Lake Huron, St. Clair and Erie.

Flooding in the Black River basin near Port Huron in St. Clair County covered rural roads with water today in three rural townships. The county road commission said residents may have to be evacuated if the situation worsens.

In the southeast corner of the state an ice jam a half mile long in the River Basin flooded in the entire eastern section of Monroe. At least one Monroe County family was evacuated and 10 others moved out because of the threatening high water.

Water at the Dundee filtration plant near Monroe was reported to be seven feet above the normal level.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Detroit said one and a half inches of rain have fallen on the area the past two days, whereas the normal precipitation for the entire month of February is about two inches.

69,000 Drivers Given Warnings

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James Hare said today his office interviewed more than 9,000 problem drivers during 1967 and mailed some 69,000 warning letters.

He said 20,495 licenses were suspended during the year under the state's financial responsibility law.

"Actions involving the driving privilege" — including cancellation, revocation, suspension and denial of licenses and referral to driver safety schools — totaled 51,735 during the year, some 4,500 more than in 1966, Hare said.

Because no matter how hard the seller sells, if you don't like what he sells—there's no deal.

Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Please tell your housewives and other readers not to put paper clips or coins in a letter without marking "hand stamp" on the outside of the envelope.

Post offices run the letters through electric stamp canceling machines. When they hit a paper clip or coin, it usually tears your letter and jams the machine. The operator must stop and unjam the machine and try to repair your letter. We would appreciate it forevermore and be able to give your readers better service.

A Postmaster

So, folks, do take heed to the Postmaster's word. I have a little hand-crank machine which cuts open 60 letters a minute and when we run across a paper clip, it jams our machine too.

Takes only a few minutes to mark "hand stamp" on the outside of your envelope. Sure would be nice...

Also, if you put a paper clip on a letter, fold it so the clip will be on the bottom of the envelope away from the stamp.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I write my baby's new accomplishments on my kitchen calendar. When I finally get out baby's book to record the information, I backtrack on my calendar making notes and dates of baby's cutest tricks.

I also make health notes of illnesses, teeth, etc. Nothing goes unrecorded because I didn't have time to get it into the baby book right away.

Mrs. G. Kundert

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever stand over a hot stove, stirring and stirring spaghetti sauce or chili so that it would not stick or burn?

Try this trick and see how easy it is.

Just put all the ingredients together in a roaster and put it into your oven. Stir it occasionally until it reaches the right consistency.

Sure saves time and strength.

Carol M.

Dear Heloise:

Our new paper boy has come up with a very ingenious idea.

He asked each of his customers for permission to put a strip of reflective tape near the bottom of the front door where he could be sure and find it with a flashlight in the early morning dark.

Now we're never missed and our paper is usually easier to reach when we open the door.

Dear Heloise:

I just got two of your books and read the prefaces.

I agree with you 100 percent about not working yourself to death. I have learned that you can flatter them, baby 'em and even do some apple-polishing and get by beautifully....

Teen-agers who gravitate to food, read on.

A budding young cook can turn her kitchen counter into a buffet and cook her specialty "to order" for her assembled friends. Her specialty might be hot corn balls made with corn muffin mix and corn seasoned with butter. With them she could serve fish stick sandwiches, assorted crisp relishes and milk or soft drinks.

If the weather is cold, how about hot chocolate with peppermint stick muddlers?

Corn Balls

2 1/2 cups corn muffin mix
1/2 cup minced onion
1 can (12 1/2-oz.) corn seasoned with butter, undrained
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 quart oil

Blend dry corn muffin mix with onion and corn. Add egg and beat with a wooden spoon until well-blended. Add water if needed to make mixture the consistency of a stiff cookie dough. Working with two spoons, take a tablespoon of dough from bowl and carefully drop into oil in electric skillet heated to 380 degrees. Cook about five minutes or until both sides are golden.

Remove from oil and drain on paper toweling. Cook only six or eight corn balls at a time so that the oil temperature remains constant. Serve with frankfurters, ham or hamburger patties.

Makes about two dozen.

Saranac Alfalfa Gets MSU's OK

The Crop Science Department of Michigan State University has approved a new alfalfa variety, Saranac — after three years of performance testing. Saranac alfalfa was developed by Cornell University. It is a cross between a winter hardy, wilt resistant American strain and Flemish varieties. The end result is desirable characteristics from both parents.

Saranac is early maturing and high yielding. It outyielded Vernal and is a week earlier in maturing. It is about equal to Dupuits in yielding ability. It has not been tried in the Upper Peninsula, but it should do well because the U.P. has more snow cover than in areas where it was tried. Farms that have large acreage of alfalfa could start harvesting earlier with this new variety and then go to acreage of Vernal which comes on later.

"We hope everybody doesn't want this new variety for 1968 because the seed supply will be limited for a couple of years," says Joseph Heirman, Delta County agricultural agent.

"If you want an earlier variety than Vernal and one that responds well after the first cutting try a few acres of Dupuit. Some farmers in Delta County are already using it with success. This summer we will be looking at several varieties planted on the Clayton Ford farm in Cornell. The varieties are planted in small plots but should give us answers to questions on varieties and yields.

Educational TV Enrolls 20 Million

EAST LANSING (AP)—More than 20 million enrollments were recorded in educational television throughout the nation last year, reports the Michigan State University Continuing Education Service. It said there were more than 19 million enrollments in courses in secondary, intermediate and elementary school systems, 461,431 in colleges, universities, seminaries, institutes and television stations and 99,107 in in-service training. The facts were contained in a national compendium of televised education published by the service.

SPLIT LEVEL COMFORT: There's a nice, quietly comfortable appearance about this modest split level house, with its natural cedar shingles, white trim, outdoor deck on the bedroom wing and complete wall of high windows along the front of the living room.

Home For Growing Brood

By ANDY LANG

Compact and pleasant in appearance, this split level house is ideally suited to a family with young children, with enough flexibility to meet their changing needs as they grow older.

Architect Samuel Paul has made the spacious kitchen the control center for the entire house. It maintains direct access to or visual contact with all these areas: the dining room, front entry, rear patio, family room, garage and, due to its high sloping ceiling, even the children's bedrooms. Containing all the modern appliances desired by the housewife of this day and age, it also accommodates a large table for informal family meals.

The family room on the lower level adjoins the kitchen, separated from it only by a railing. The two rooms form one large informal area, well suited for young children to play in under the watchful eye of mother — for teen-agers to party in — or for adults to relax in. The dinette section of the kitchen leads directly to the rear upper patio; the family room has sliding glass doors to the rear lower patio, which has a barbecue.

The balcony leading to the children's bedrooms also can be part of this space, making it

Design Z-25 has 1475 square feet of habitable area in the basic part of the house, which encompasses a living room, dining room, front entry foyer, kitchen-dinette, three bedrooms and 2½ baths. On the lower level are a family room, lavatory and two-car garage. There is an outdoor deck outside of the master bedroom and a covered porch off the dining room. The laundry area is located in the basement. Overall dimensions, which include the garage, are 53' 8" by 40'.

easy to tend the youngsters. As the children grow older and require more privacy, the balcony railing can be replaced by a full wall, creating an enclosed hallway to the bedrooms.

To the right of the kitchen is the formal dining room and, to the right of that, a covered porch. This porch, open to the rear and the side, may be screened in, if desired, for pleasant outdoor dining. In fact, if needed at a later date, it is a possibility as a complete additional room, since it is within the over-all dimensions of the house and does not require extra land.

The living room just to the right of the entry foyer, has a brick fireplace and a long wall of windows, complete with a window seat overlooking the front garden and contributing to the cheerfulness of this formal entertaining area. There also are windows looking out onto the covered porch. The foyer itself is spacious, with a guest lavatory and a walk-in lavatory.

All three bedrooms are at the left side of the house. There is a bathroom with full tub located near the children's bedrooms, while the master bedroom has a private bathroom with stall shower. The master bedroom has a somewhat unusual feature for a small house; two walk-in closets. Generally, a single walk-in closet and a smaller closet are considered excellent facilities in the principal bedroom, even for a larger house. Another highlight of this particular master bedroom is a private outdoor deck accessible through sliding glass doors.

In addition to the two bedrooms and lavatory already mentioned, there is a lavatory on the lower level adjacent to the family room and the patio. The family room has three closets for storage, and there is additional storage space in the two-car garage. A laundry area is located in the basement, which is under the kitchen, dining room and living room.

Enveloped in natural cedar shingles with accents of white siding and trim, the exterior of design Z-25 has a look of agreeable comfort.

ABOLISHED POLYGAMY

Although Utah became a territory by congressional action in 1850, it was not granted statehood until 1896, after the Mormon church had publicly agreed to the abolition of the practice of polygamy.

DINETTE: The dinette area of the kitchen gives a view of the attractive family room on the lower level. The door at the right, just beyond the divider, leads to the upper patio.

Farm Week Will Be In March '69

EAST LANSING (AP) — As the 1968 Farmers Week activities at Michigan State University ended today, officials already were thinking of next year's Farmers Week — and making a change.

Dr. Thomas K. Cowden, dean of the MSU College of Agriculture and Natural Resources, announced that the 1969 Farmers Week would be held in mid-March during the university's spring recess.

The event has been held in late January or early February ever since it began in 1914.

"The change, approved by a wide majority of agricultural extension personnel throughout the state, will help us accommodate the expanded educational programs presented during farmers week," Cowden said.

"These improved facilities — meeting rooms, demonstration areas and exhibit space — plus the better weather which usually exists in early spring, will increase the potential for an even better educational event," he added.

In Mid-March

Cowden said the 1969 farmers week has been set for March 17-21.

Dr. Russell G. Mawby, vice president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, spoke Thursday night at the annual farmers week farm management banquet.

Farmers who point with pride to high production capacity and view with alarm the persistent poor profit situation should save some time to "become involved with mankind," Mawby said.

"An erosion of social conscience... has characterized and graced the rural and the farm," he said.

Slight Education

Mawby cited: —Studies which indicate that farm parents tend to attach less importance to education for their youngsters than do non-farm parents.

Boys who plan to farm feel that education beyond high school is relatively unimportant and have lower educational aspirations than do farm boys with other occupational plans.

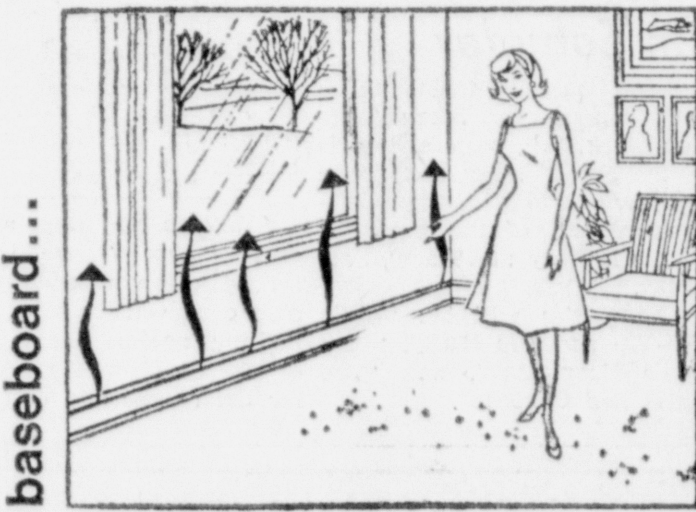

—Rural youth who not only complete fewer years of school, "but they also receive generally what is considered inferior education."

—Reports of Selective Service examinations which indicate a poorer physical record for rural than for urban youth.

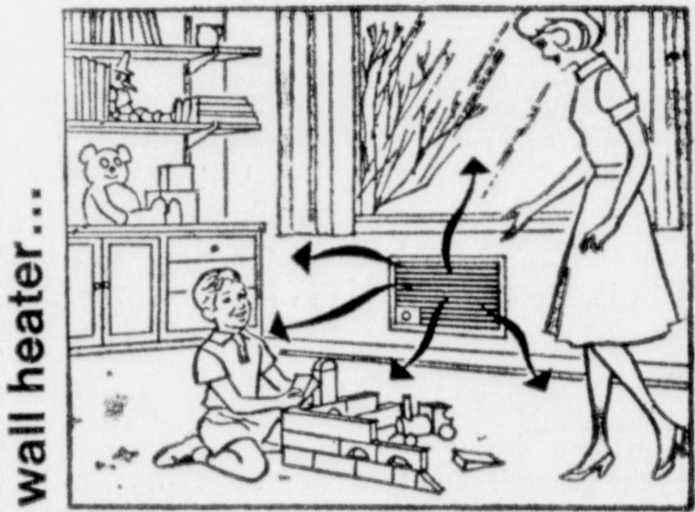

Mawby said farmers are "now a political and economic minority—but the course of history has been altered by the efforts of minorities—dedicated, energetic, not always well-intentioned, but articulate and effective."

"In the human issues cresting today," he said, "farm and rural people can be swept in the omens, tossed about and buffeted, perhaps left to languish in the backwash."

"Or they can be in the mainstream, in concert with total society, not alone yielding but shaping the pattern of things to come."

Certified Spud Seed Is Needed

Michigan certified seed potato acreage has reached a record high, but seed production will still only be about one-fifth of the amount that Michigan potato growers could use.

"Nearly 4,000 acres of Michigan certified seed potatoes passed final field inspection in 1967," reports Dr. Richard W. Chase, Michigan State University crop scientist. "This should mean that about 800,000 hundredweight of potatoes will be produced which could be sold as certified seed."

"But the growers that produce these potatoes sell only about one-fourth of their crop for seed—about 200,000 cwt.—while the rest is sold as table stock. In addition, some of the certified seed is sold out of state."

"We actually need one million cwt. of seed to meet the needs of Michigan growers. Since our current production is only about one-fifth this total, growers must look to other states for their seed source."

Seed potato acreage has nearly doubled in the past four years, which should help to meet demands of Michigan growers, but seed production still is far short of what it should be, says Chase.

Of the total certified acreage inspected in 1967, five varieties accounted for 85 per cent of the total Michigan plantings: Onaway, Russet Burbank, Sebago, Russet Rural and Katahdin. Seed plantings of Russet Burbank, the most popular potato variety, have increased most rapidly in the past two years.

"We feel that the Upper Peninsula might consider growing a few more acres of seed to supply local needs," says Joseph Heriman, Delta County agricultural agent. "Many growers are going out of the area to buy their seed supply."

Shortages Cut Coho Plantings

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand River will not be stocked with Coho salmon until the success of spring plantings in Lake Michigan are known and the number of Coho produced in state hatcheries increases, State Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, said.

The Pere Marquette and Muskegon rivers were the only ones South of Manistee to get Coho this spring because fewer salmon were available for planting, Zaagman said. He said the Conservation Department told him the Grand River was high the list of priority streams in 1969 when additional Coho are expected to be available.

Spuds For Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Agriculture said Thursday that its Consumer Market Service will take bids on instant dehydrated potatoes for distribution to needy families. The department said bids will be accepted from all processing firms, and the amount purchased would depend upon supply and prices offered.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

TWO-STORY ENGLISH TUDOR — In the tradition of the small English manor house, HA528M has the detail activity which makes this style so interesting. Exterior finish is half timber, stucco and brick veneer. The garage, following the design of the house, with the doors on the side, makes this portion look like a continuation of the habitable area from the front. Entry is into a vestibule with guest closet and seat cabinet for wet footwear. A foyer and hall leading to a back vestibule make this a true center hall design. A wood-railed staircase brings the English architect inside. Living and dining room ceilings are beamed. Four the first floor and 1,209 square feet on the second to a third-floor storage room. Architect is R. A. Matern, 89 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola, N. Y. 11501. There are 1,282 square feet on bedrooms are large. The disappearing stair leads floor.

Farm Numbers Slip By 2,000

LANSING (AP)—The number of farms in Michigan continues to decline, and the farms which remain are getting bigger, says the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

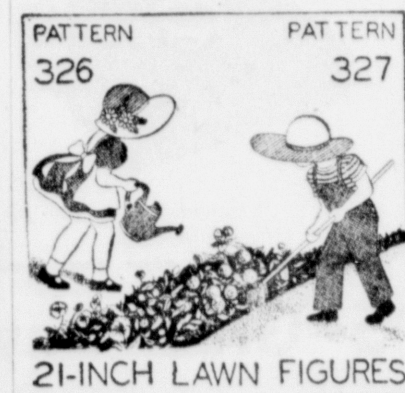

The agency said there were 89,000 farms in the state on Jan. 1, some 3,000 fewer than existed a year ago. But, it added, the average farm size is 152 acres, compared with 145 acres a year ago.

B. Dale Ball, state agriculture director, said small farmers are especially vulnerable to the "price squeeze" as the costs of the things they need rise faster than the prices of their produce.

Lansing Plans Electric Plant

LANSING (AP) — The Lansing Board of Water and Light Thursday announced plans to build a $200 million electric generating plant, expected to be one of the largest municipally-owned electric facilities in the country.

"The complete plant is designed to be built in stages over a 20-year period with an ultimate capacity of more than one million kilowatts," said Claude R. Erickson, general manager of the utility.

He said the board expects to finance the plant entirely out of earnings and existing funds.

The board currently operates two power generating plants producing more than 250,000 kilowatts on demand.

"If local and area demand for electricity continues to increase as it has since the city entered the power business in 1935 and in more recent years, the load will double every 10 years," Erickson said.

He predicted the demand would hit 430,000 kilowatts by 1975.

"The completed plant will contain at least six individual electric generating units, the first of which is scheduled for commercial operation during 1972," he said.

The facility, Erickson added, would not be an atomic power generating plant because the cost would be excessive.

There are 550 different kinds of acacia trees native to tropical and subtropical areas. An Indian acacia produces a valuable medicine called catechu.

MICHIGAN'S 1968 Highway map prepared by the Highway Dept. carries a drawing of a freighter passing through the Sault Ste. Marie locks in honor of the community's 300th birthday. ## Map Makers Goofed:

Discover Sault Only 3rd Oldest

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Highway Department admits it may have been a bit hasty when it printed its official 1968 road maps describing Sault Ste. Marie as the nation's second oldest city.

"Some checking revealed that the city itself only lays claim to third oldest, following St. Augustine, Fla., and Santa Fe, N.M.," a red-faced department spokesman said here.

The department announced Wednesday it had printed the first of its million maps, and immediately got a query from an amateur historian who wanted to know the source of the second-oldest claim.

The spokesman acknowledged that he was "at a loss to explain how it (the department) came up with second oldest in the first place."

The map's cover features the Soo, which is celebrating the 300th anniversary of its founding by Father Jacques Marquette in 1668, and Wayne State University, which is observing its 100th anniversary this year.

The spokesman said printing of the million maps is nearly completed, and the department does not plan to start all over again with a corrected version. The Michigan manual, an official publication printed by the Department of State, says the area which is now the Soo was named Sault de Sainte Marie by a pair of French Jesuit missionaries in 1641.

The manual says a canal was opened between lakes Huron and Superior in 1855 and a lock was built in 1881.

The Michigan Legislature incorporated Sault Ste. Marie as a village in 1879 and as a city in 1887.

More than 25 per cent of all U. S. households now own two or more automobiles, according to Department of Commerce figures.

Ad Character Is Fleeting On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — They come and they go, the characters and personalities in the television commercials. And when their usefulness is over, they suddenly disappear unloved and unmourned.

Has anybody even missed Wanda the witch who created marvelous hairdos with a touch of her wand? Or that silly dove that lived in a lady's cupboard? Gene, all gone.

Obviously neither of them had fan clubs.

Sales pitches starring magic is going out of style. Just about the only example of real magic left involves that white tornado rolling up such a storm cleaning a dirty corner that the state troopers come to investigate.

Of course there is always the cartoon giant selling frozen vegetables, and now there is also an automobile commercial starring a toy-size car complete with driver which is so tiny a life-size girl picks it up and puts it down. She also establishes a roadblock by placing her compact on the pint-size highway.

There are a lot of current commercials with swifty musical backgrounds and there is a marked vogue for products used by the young crowd to use unusual camera effects. Most disconcerting, however, are the ones that bid for viewer attention by disturbing flashes of light followed by dark on the screen.

For a while this season—some still are around—there were commercials with shock value: The neighbor who grabs her friend's toothpaste and scornfully throws it away while producing a tube of new toothpaste of the same brand. Even Katy Winters, who has spent years patching up people's lives with her deodorant, has been busy urging people to throw away the old stuff and get some of her new good stuff.

Just ordinary folks—ordinary folks like none of us has ever seen—continue to discuss with passion and intensity the length and taste of assorted brands of cigarettes. One offbeat sales pitch stars a very rude, sullen fellow in dark glasses who appears much more interested in getting rid of a pushy girl than in smoking. There is also an amusing commercial—amusing, that is the first couple of times it is seen—suggesting the course of history might have been different had certain prominent characters like Washington and Franklin taken up smoking cigarettes.

Humor plays an important part in commercials these days although whether one warms to Fran's mouthwash advice to the lovelorn or to Madge's clever method of manicuring nails with dishwashing liquid depends, presumably, on the individual's sense of humor. One series of cigarette commercials even takes precious air time to retell old jokes—"I feel like a ham sandwich." "You don't look like one." That, presumably, puts the viewer in a jolly receptive mood.

Generally, there seem to be more commercials these days, particularly short ones. Their tone and quality seems to improve each year. And, according to some of the research people, the viewers' resistance seems to toughen constantly under the repeated exposure.

This viewer's favorite commercial? The stomach settler starring the headless character suffering from the blues.

Brodie Westen, Marquette native and Northern grad, has been named freshman football coach at the University of Illinois where he succeeds J. C. Caroline who has been elevated to the varsity staff. . . . Westen was head football coach at Rockford West High School before former Escanaban Tom Schwalbach took over the head job three years ago.

The century mark in scoring is becoming almost commonplace in the Upper Peninsula this season. . . . Fourteen teams have reached that figure in 24 different games thus far with Ewen-Trout Creek accomplishing the feat four times and Hermansville three times. . . . Two years ago Trout Creek hit 100 points or more six times during the regular season.

Ewen-Trout Creek gained revenge for its single setback of the season by whipping Channing, 86-62, this week. . . . Channing tripped the Panthers, 85-80, in their first game of the season. . . . Dick Pole scored 25 points to pace the winners to their 13th straight victory. . . . The Panthers are averaging 94 points per game.

Iron Mountain protected its slim lead in the Menominee Range Conference by stopping Norway, 72-61, with four players hitting double figures in a balanced attack. . . . The triumph boosted Iron Mountain's league record to 7-1, while Crystal Falls ran its Range mark to 7-2 by downing Iron River, 74-64. . . . The Trojans and Redskins were all even from the field with 27 goals apiece but Crystal Falls won it from the free throw line with 20 of 23 attempts. . . . Gary Saccheck, 6 foot 6 inch senior, led the Trojans with 25 points.

Kingsford snapped its season long losing streak this week, nailing Niagara by a 73-50 margin in a Range contest. . . . Tim Kearney, 6 foot 2 inch senior, paced the Flivvers with 26 points and Mark Berdinner chipped in with 21. . . . Kingsford had lost 10 straight previous outings.

Fred Carr, highly touted first round draft choice of the Green Bay Packers, was a phenomenal high school athlete at Phoenix Union in Arizona. . . . He was a two time all state choice in football, both ways, and a three-time selection on the all state basketball squad. . . . He also set school records in both the shot put and discus in track.

Ex-Spartan Ace Picked By Pros While In Prison

EAST LANSING (AP) — Jesse Phillips, one-time stellar Michigan State defensive back, may go from a state prison camp to a pro football camp. . . . Phillips was a fourth-round draft choice of the newly organized Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League, although he is serving a prison term on a bad check charge. . . . One strike against Phillips came when he was knocked out of the Spartan football lineup in the first game last fall, against Houston, by a damaged ligament in his right knee. He since has undergone surgery and the knee is reported in good condition.

Oklahoma Team Tops NAIA List

KANSAS CITY (AP)—North-eastern Oklahoma State is the top team in the NAIA basketball poll for the second straight week. Howard Payne of Texas stayed No. 2 in the voting by a panel of 32 coaches. . . . The rest of the top 10 underwent a severe juggling. Guilford, N.C., moved up to third and St. Benedict's of Kansas, the 1967 NAIA tourney champ, dropped to fourth ahead of Ashland, Ohio. . . . Unbeaten Norfolk State of Virginia made the biggest gain, from ninth to sixth. Alcorn A&M, Miss., is seventh, with Pasadena, Calif., and Stephen F. Austin, Tex., tied for eighth and ninth and Fairmont State, W. Va., 10th. . . . The second 10, in order, includes Carson-Newman, Tenn.; Central Washington State; Eastern New Mexico; St. Cloud, Minn.; State Edinboro, Pa.; State Northern Michigan; Jackson, Miss.; State McNeese State, La.; Earlham, Ind.; and Albany, Ga., State.

Phil Bengston New Head Coach

Lombardi To Be Fulltime Packer General Manager

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Vince Lombardi, the Brooklyn-born miracle man who built football's mightiest dynasty in this small city on Green Bay, has retired to the executive suite after nine smash seasons as Packer head coach.

From now on, Lombardi, 54, will be only the general manager of the team he coached to five National Football League titles in those years. The new head coach will be Phil Bengston, 56, the designer of the Packers' stifling defenses.

It was the first time Lombardi, absolute ruler of Green Bay football as coach and general manager, ever delegated a major share of his authority.

Bengston was sure Lombardi would not interfere with the running of the team.

Close Relationship "Our relationship has been very close and there's been a very real understanding between us as long as we've been together," Bengston said.

"I'm sure that there will be no crossing over and no interference. I'm sure he's going to have his hands full with the general manager's duties."

Bengston, a tall balding man with inner toughness and patrician manners, didn't pretend his new job would be easy. "I realize I will be succeeding a remarkable man as coach of a team with a record probably unequalled in the history of football," Bengston said. "I hope we will be able to continue the winning tradition of the Packers."

Growth Of Business The one-time Minnesota star, who admitted having turned down previous head coaching offers, spoke immediately after Lombardi told Packer directors and newsmen of his decision Thursday night. He had made up his mind, Lombardi said, "only after a great deal of thought and study."

Halas, 73, Is Eager To Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — George S. Halas celebrated his 73rd birthday today eager to direct his Chicago Bears in his 41st National Football League coaching season next fall.

Halas, a founding father of the NFL in 1922, waved a cast-embroidered left hand and said in an interview: "I'm looking ahead to the coming season when we should go to camp better-gearred and in better frame of mind than in several years."

"We had a good draft at New York this week, selecting at least three players who very well may make the team this year."

Halas, who owned the Bears since organizing the club as the Decatur Staleys in 1920, said his annual physical checkup last week was favorable.

He minimized a hairline fracture of his left wrist sustained in a fall on a slippery floor.

"When I was going down, I made an instant decision to land on my left hand instead of my right hand, because I use it more, to sign contracts and the like," quipped Papa Bear. "But the injury doesn't bother me at all."

Halas predicted that the Bears' three top picks in the pro football draft Tuesday and Wednesday could be instant success.

They included the No. 1 choice, fullback Mike Hull of Southern California, and Bob Wallace of Texas-El Paso and Major Hezelton, defensive back from Florida A&M.

Bottom Teams Battle It Out

By The Associated Press

The game meant about as little as one could, but Kentucky and Houston acted as if it were for a championship.

Houston, in last place in the American Basketball Association's Western Division, beat Kentucky, similarly situated in the Eastern Division, 109-107 Thursday night. And the Mavericks had to fight to the bitter end.

The Colonels outscored them 31-19 in the first period—and 59-43 in the final period—only to bow by the two-point margin.

Speaking from a written text, Lombardi apologized, saying he had to because of the emotion involved. "I felt I could not trust my self to say what I must say unless it is written," he explained.

"Because of the nature and growth of the business and the corporate structure of the Packers, I believe it is impractical for me to try to do both jobs. I feel I must relinquish one of them.

Lombardi's emotion showed only momentarily during his three-minute talk. When it was over, tears were noticeable in his eyes.

The indomitable Lombardi, the only man ever to coach a team to three straight titles since the NFL adopted the playoff system in 1933, said he was flattered by the number of people who attended his news conference and dinner. "This started out as a routine press release, believe me," he said to the gathering of more than 100 persons.

Nine Winning Seasons Lombardi, who took over a team that had won only one game in 1958 and turned it into a contender almost overnight and a champion within three years, leaves after nine straight winning seasons.

His Packer teams won 89 regular season games, lost only 29 and tied four. The Packers captured six Western Conference titles as well as five league titles and for the past two seasons have won world titles by beating the American Football League champions in the Super Bowl.

Lombardi, who bows out as the closest thing to an all-winning coach that the NFL has ever seen, turns over to Bengston a solid team blended carefully with veterans and newcomers.

Bengston, believed close to Lombardi in football outlook, said he planned no major departures from traditional Packer patterns.

Packer players don't expect any changes either. Bengston indicated he would, at least for the time being, continue to run the defense. For the past nine seasons he has called all the Packer defensive signals.

Can Be Tough Nor is Bengston, although mild-mannered, expected to be any less a disciplinarian than Lombardi was. Bengston, too, can read the riot act.

"I heard him a couple of times," said veteran tackle Henry Jordan. "When he does, it breaks your heart. You know you have to push him a long way for him to do that."

"And with him the feeling he conveys to you is that he's disgusted and disappointed with you. It's not the feeling that he doesn't like you."

Jordan was sure the coaching change would not affect Packer play. "I don't think we'll have any problems," he said.

"The players really like and respect him. They know he's got the knowledge and they know he can rule with an iron hand."

Lombardi is deep-chested and somewhat stocky. Bengston is tall and gives the impression of sparseness. Lombardi is quick to anger, aloof, moody, and seldom funny.

Bengston has a reputation for wit. Like Lombardi, he can use the English language well. Although far from a chummy sort, Bengston is not aloof from the players. He rarely lets his temper flare, but he does have a temper.

Detroit Trades For Hairston; Playoff Is Goal

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Going all out for their first playoff berth in five seasons, the Detroit Pistons traded guard Tom Van Arsdale and forward John Tresvant to the Cincinnati Royals Thursday for forward Happy Hairston and rookie center Jim Fox.

"We're shooting for the playoffs and we think that Hairston is the man that can do it for us," said Detroit Coach Donnis Butcher, whose team meets the Philadelphia 76ers tonight.

The deal was completed hours before the National Basketball Association's midnight trading deadline.

Hairston, a 6-foot-7 NBA veteran, has been averaging 17.7 points per game for the Royals.

"Happy can run; he's a good rebounder and a fine defensive player," Butcher said.

Butcher said he would use Hairston at forward where regulars Terry Dischinger has been slowed by injuries and Dave DeBusschere has been in a scoring slump.

Fox, a 6-foot-10 rookie from South Carolina, has played little with the Royals but put in two years of amateur basketball in Italy. He averaged 6.3 points per game for the Royals.

"If Fox can help us he certainly will be a valuable addition," said Butcher.

Center has been the big problem for the Pistons, with regular Joe Strawder sidelined on and off with arthritis in his left knee and reserve George Patterson just learning the ropes in his rookie NBA season.

Butcher said both players would be ready for tonight's game against the 76ers.

Detroit, which has won only nine of its last 27 games and seen its six-game hold on third place in the NBA's Eastern Division dwindle to one-half game over the Royals, fell below the 500 mark with a 113-106 loss to Baltimore Wednesday.

The key player in the trade for the Royals was Van Arsdale, a 6-foot-5 guard who was a starter in Detroit until rookie Dave Bing beat him out last season. He averaged 12 points a game last year and had a 6.5 per game average in a reserve role this year.

Tresvant, a reserve center and forward, has been with Detroit two years, averaging 13.3 points per game this year, and was second in rebounding with 540 in 55 games.

Hairston reportedly had been in Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker's dog house for some remarks he made and had been riding the bench in recent weeks.

Hayes Gets 39 Points But Isn't Satisfied With Garden Showing

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston's Elvin Hayes was not satisfied with his performance in New York's Madison Square Garden, but neither was opposing Marshall, so the Big E must have done something right.

Whatever he did, it got him 39 points and 19 rebounds, enough to run the top-ranked Cougars past the Thundering Herd 102-93 Thursday night for their 20th college basketball victory without a loss.

Houston, although in command from the early moments, never could shake hustling Marshall, but still had an easier time than third-ranked North Carolina, which came from behind twice in the last half to beat visiting Florida State 86-80.

The only other ranking team in action, Duke, No. 9, also had its hands full before Subduing Virginia 90-78 in Charlottesville. Hayes, a 6-foot-8, 235-pound All-American, connected on 16 of 29 shots from the field, but most of them were short jumpers or rebounds as he seldom moved outcourt against the smaller Thundering Herd.

"I was looking forward to playing in the Garden," he said. "I had 22 points here two years ago, but I didn't think I had a good night."

"I think I played well tonight, but I could have played better. I don't think we were as up to tonight as we were for UCLA. How could be be?"

The game was the opener of a doubleheader in which Army trounced New York U. 75-51 in the nightcap for its eighth straight victory and a 14-3 record.

North Carolina, winning for the 13th time in 14 starts, led 46-40 at the half, but had to make up 63-61 and 76-75 deficits. Four consecutive points gave the Tar Heels a 79-76 lead they never gave up.

Larry Miller had 24 points for North Carolina.

Duke, upset Tuesday night by South Carolina, had trouble again as Virginia held a 72-70 edge before Mike Lewis hit a basket and Steve Vandenberg dropped four straight free throws. Then with the score 80-78, Duke scored the last 10 points of the game.

Lewis finished with 26 points. Tulsa pulled away from a North Texas State press in the second half for a 70-57 victory in Denton, Tex. Rob Washington had 23 points for Tulsa.

Don May notched 31 points to lead Dayton to a 98-60 rout over visiting Miami of Florida.

Oklahoma City, playing at home and led by Ardel Englund's 30 points, pulled away early to a 127-99 cruise over Wisconsin.

New Mexico State blew a 19-point lead at home and had to break a 78-all tie for a 95-87 victory over Hardin-Simmons. It was the Aggies 17th triumph in 19 games.

In road victories, Brigham Young outscored Utah State 118-103 and Washington crushed Montana State 98-74.

Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 99-64, Alabama bombed Stanford 86-65, Nebraska stopped Colorado 87-73 and Portland upset Oregon State 67-61 in home victories.

Fresno Bowler Is Pro Leader

KANSAS CITY (AP) Ed Bourdase of Fresno, Calif., rolled 1,359 for six games Thursday night to vault into the lead in the Professional Bowlers Association $75,000 Cougar Open.

The 39-year-old Bourdase finished the 40 qualifying games with a 5,200 total. Thern Davis of Chicago was second at 5,188.

Auto Workers Idleness Is Cut

DETROIT (AP) — Canadian Chrysler employees started back to work today at a foundry, a spring plant and an assembly plant across the Detroit River in Windsor, following acceptance of a new national contract which ended a strike begun Jan. 24.

Altogether, more than 9,000 workers are scheduled to return to their jobs in Windsor by the beginning of next week, a spokesman said. Another 900 are expected to return to work at two suburban Chrysler Canada Ltd. plants near Toronto.

In other developments on the automotive scene, the last of three major General Motors foundries reached local agreement with its employees Thursday.

United Auto Workers Union members at the Chevrolet foundry in Tonawanda, N.Y., voted to return to their jobs, but a GM spokesman said parts shortages caused by the three strikes will prevent the resumption of full production until February 12.

GM employees out of jobs Thursday, mainly due to parts shortages, totaled 113,700, a decline of 20,500 over Wednesday. The world's largest automaker recalled 27,900 workers Thursday at 16 plants as new parts arrived and laid off an additional 7,400 due to shortages.

Labor strife caused a drop in estimated auto production for the week. U.S. automakers scheduled 145,435 cars for the production line, about 45,000 less than the previous week total of 190,025.

Michigan To Gain Most From Big Lake Cleanup

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan has more to gain by a cleanup of Lake Michigan pollution than any other state, Lt. Gov. William Milliken told a four-state conference on the problem.

More than 58 per cent of the lake lies within Michigan, Milliken noted at a conference of representatives of Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and the federal government.

The lieutenant governor said here that the state must know what share of the cleanup costs will be borne by the federal government.

Michigan is doing its share, he said, by asking the people to approve a $335 million bond issue for pollution cleanup.

Goals include construction of 210 new sewage treatment plants, improvement of 126 existing treatment plants and construction of sewers for an additional 3.5 million people by 1980, Milliken said.

Milliken said there is no guarantee, however, that the federal government will meet its share of 50 per cent of the cost of the program.

Fear Federal Cuts
"Other states undoubtedly find themselves in a similar predicament in trying to base major programs on a 50-50-50 (federal, state, local) per cent basis in which 50 per cent may be subject to considerable shrinkage," he added.

Milliken said the relationship between federal, state and local government, in planning and funding, must be the best possible with each unit keeping its commitments to the others.

Local governments, he said, cannot be expected to raise more than 25 per cent.

Michigan, meanwhile, has made great progress during the past five years in water pollution control, Milliken said.

He cited strengthened legislation, increases in appropriations and staff for the Water Resources Commission, a state grant fund to aid local communities in construction of sewage treatment facilities, tax incentives for industries for pollution control and the adoption of interstate water quality standards.

Cooperation Needed

Other federal, state and local leaders said it in different words, but the message that came through was the same—quick, cooperative action is needed to save Lake Michigan.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said he was disappointed "with the administration request for only $225 million for fiscal 1969 for the federal share of construction of sewage treatment works."

He said the interstate highway system has been pushed with billions of dollars and that the nation's waters are no less important.

His remarks drew applause from the representatives of government and industry and club women present.

Nelson suggested that the conference:

—Fix a coordinated timetable and uniform standards for abating industrial and municipal pollution.

—Make the shoreline "fit for swimming once again."

Halt Pesticides

—Develop "plans to restore water quality in special situations such as Green Bay."

—Stop the dumping in the lake of waste from ships and boats and material dredged from harbor bottoms.

The lawmaker suggested a halt in "the use of dangerous pesticides such as DDT" and support of legislation to "remove from the market detergents heavy in phosphates."

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago told the conference, "We are told the lake will be useless unless we do something soon. We know it will be expensive. But it will be even more costly in the future."

Russell Lynch, chairman of the Wisconsin Natural Resources Board, said, "I think that, over all, we're talking about a billion-dollar program. Massive federal aid is required."

Snow Festival Hopes Melted

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Hopes for a snow festival have melted at Western Michigan University for the fourth time in the past five years.

Snow hasn't fallen in Kalamazoo since mid-January and Thursday temperatures are expected as high as 50 degrees.

Even though the women's toboggan race has been canceled and the snow sculpting contest is off, Snow Queen Andrea Miller, a 20-year-old sophomore from Bloomfield Hills, will reign over traditional indoor activities of the season.

Bust Builder Suit Pressed

BAY CITY (AP)—The Justice Department announced Thursday it has asked a federal court not to dismiss without a trial criminal charges against Dow Corning Corp. and three of its officers in a case involving shipment of a breast-expanding silicone fluid.

In its answer to a defendants' motion for dismissal, U.S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow said that whether the silicone fluids shipped can be termed "a drug" or "a new drug" depends on the "intended uses" of the product, which the government contends can only be determined by a complete trial of the case.

The defendants, charged in a 16-count federal indictment with illegally transporting and mislabeling a silicone fluid used to enlarge women's breasts, asked last Aug. 21 that the charges be dropped.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Paul Harkonen of UPCAP says that it is more than passing strange that the 1968 Michigan highway map, just issued, has no designation of the Manistique car ferry service to Frankfort in Lower Michigan.

The service was noted on the 1967 map of the State Highway Department, but this year it's missing. Harkonen's efforts to determine who ordered it removed were unavailing.

He notes that while the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the car ferry service across Lake Michigan to Manistique, the ICC has not granted permission. The State Highway Department cartographers, however, didn't wait. Manistique area interests, UPCAP and Michigan's attorney general have filed briefs with the ICC opposing the railroad's request for permission to end the service.

Credit Union Meeting Held In Spalding

The 18th annual North Menominee County Federal Credit Union meeting was held Saturday evening at the St. Francis Xavier parish hall. The immaculate Conception circle with Miss Myrtle Beatson, chairman, catered the 7 p.m. dinner.

Ethel Casimer reported that credit union assets for 1967 are 18.6 per cent over last year. The following members of the Board of Directors were re-elected: Karl Behrend, Napoleon Betters, Merlin Harrington, Ethel Casimer and Julia Letendre. John Dault was appointed to the credit committee.

Guests included Vista workers, Nell Everette and Rosie Doddato, who told of the Vista activities in the Powers-Spalding area. Mrs. Ray Casimer will attend a policy owner's meeting in Detroit next week and in April will conduct meetings for area credit union.

Hairy Questions; No Charges Filed

EAST LANSING (AP) — The police department in East Lansing, home of Michigan State University, is familiar with problems involving the shenanigans of collegians.

Sample two telephone calls recently received:

First call — What criminal charges might be involved "in the forceable holding down of a person and cutting his hair?"

Answer: Assault and battery. Second call — What criminal charges might be involved if one student, threatening to sign an assault and battery complaint, demanded $10 from six other students as the price for keeping his mouth shut? Answer: Extortion.

No charges have been filed.

U-M And Ferris Spending Hiked

LANSING (AP) — Resolutions authorizing a boost in state spending on construction projects at the University of Michigan and Ferris State College were approved by the Senate Thursday.

One authorizes spending of $1,620,000 for renovations to elevators at the University of Michigan Hospital. Expenditure of $1,500,000 originally had been approved.

Another increases spending for remodeling of a trade and industrial building at Ferris from $250,000 to $280,000.

Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, said the increases were necessary because "rising construction costs just caught up with us."

TOBOGGANING, Florida style, is enjoyed by Judy Scotter who flashes a smile as she whizzes by on Lake Eloise.
